Verbal Description

Stamp fragment - Top & Bottom edges are notched, design is two dancing monkeys linked together. One on right is probably linked to another monkey, not visible here. Handle is on the back of the right monkey. Handle is just a small lump of clay sort of stuck on & not very well smoothed over. Top & bottom edges are beveled on the back side, with the wider part being the design side. In the eye & mouth of the right monkey as well as in the stomach (circled area on drawing) the monkey is filled w/ a hardened black clay - this has been fired, and will not come out. It is not due to a faulty mold, but looks like it was stuck & fired at a later date. No paint is visible.
